

PROJECT DEVELOPMENT

Sketching solutions, putting plans into action.

➤ Residential, commercial, healthcare, industrial or transport infrastructures: we advise on complex project developments by providing in-depth expertise for all types of use.

Project Development

Behind every real estate project development, there are countless economic considerations and decisions, plans and research, as well as agreements to be concluded with all stakeholders involved. This requires lawyers with a high level of expertise in their field combined with a strong network of all legal disciplines involved. Beyond that, such projects demand the skills to act as an economic adviser who takes into consideration and fully grasps the related societal and environmental implications. This holistic perspective is what we stand for.

We advise on complex project developments by providing in-depth expertise for all types of use. Residential, commercial, healthcare, industrial or transport infrastructures – our team of highly qualified and experienced lawyers will always find a fitting solution for you. For questions concerning structuring, financing and tax structuring, we involve further expert colleagues from within GSK Stockmann. Together, we assist clients in the following:

- Completing planning and approval procedures, drawing up land-use plans, concluding the respective contracts and obtaining all the necessary permits and approvals
- Advice on all aspects and legal interfaces of a project
- Developing a strategy for contracts, drafting and structuring specific agreements and contracts
- Structuring the exit, including financing
- Legal advice for conflicts, disputes and arbitration proceedings
